We are moving rapidly towards a cashless society. It is believed that within five years, notes and coins may start to become obsolete as more and more of us turn to cards and phones to make payments.

Conscious of this change, the Diocese has asked us to introduce a card payment terminal into the parish, which will help support the parish by making electronic payments easier. In the few weeks that it has been in place we have been please that more and more parishioners and visitors are using this as a way of contributing.

Feast of the Baptism of The Lord:

On this feast day, which marks the end of Christmastide, Fr. Eugene and Fr. Jim wish to express their thanks to the Parish Baptism Team. Baptism makes the baptised person a member of the Church. It joins that person to the Risen Christ with a bond that is mysterious and endures forever. Through baptism, the divine life of Jesus is implanted in the baptized person.

Our Parish Baptism Team meets the families of each person to be baptised before the ceremony takes place and prepares them to understand the depth, sacredness and meaning of the of the Sacrament of Baptism. The baptism preparation meetings take place monthly in Patrick's Place. We are grateful for the generosity of the team members and for their hard work for the families of the parish and the Church's newest members. details of Baptism preparation meetings are available from Mary Cullen at the Parish Office.

BBC BROADCAST MASS FROM DOWNPATRICK:

We congratulate St. Patrick's Senior Choir and Choir Director, Mary McHugh, for being chosen to sing at Mass for Radio Ulster's Sunday Service Broadcast this weekend.

Mass was recorded a few days ago and will be broadcast on Sunday 11 January at 9.03am (after the 9am news). This is a sign of the esteem in which our choir is held. We thank our choir for their generous response to the BBC request.

We are fortunate indeed to have choir which enhances the liturgy each week in St Patrick's and who bring such beauty to Christmas, Holy Week, Easter and other great celebrations of faith.

We thank too, all the musicians throughout the parish who serve the liturgy so generously throughout the year.

Mass can be listened to on Radio Ulster and then on BBC Sounds for thirty days after.
